

Use Case	Function Being Tested	State	Input	Expected Output
Reservation	Add a customer to the reservation list of a title	Running	Enter the customer id under reservation pane for a selected title	Customer should be added to the reservation list at the bottom, then clerk is brought back to reservation menu pane
Reservation	Try to add a customer that does not exist to the reservation list of a title	Running	Enter the customer id under reservation pane for a selected title	Should produce an error saying the customer does not exist, and allow them to try an enter a new id
Reservation	Cancel a reservation of a title for a given customer by that customer's request	Running	Enter a customer id, then select which title you want to remove from their list on reserve and click cancel	The customer should be removed from the reservation list for that title and if anyone is below on the list will be moved up
Reservation	Cancel a reservation of a title for a given customer because they cannot be contacted or doesn't want that item anymore	Running	Pull up reservation list and select the customer at the top of the list, then click cancel	This customer should be removed from the reservation list for that title and everyone below that person should be moved up the list; the clerk should also be notified of a new customer at the top of the reservation list
Reservation	Cancel a reservation list	Running	Enter a title and click cancel	Dialog box should appear confirming if this is really what the clerk wants to do, if yes, then the entire reservation list is emptied
Reservation	Place an item "on hold" upon return	Running	Enter the item id into the return pane	System should check to see if anyone has this title reserved, see that someone does and notify the clerk
Reservation	Place an item "on hold" upon return	Running	Enter the item id into the return pane	System should check to see if anyone has this title reserved, see that nobody does and place it back on the shelf
Title Report	Adding number of copies on hold for a given customer	Running	Manager should click print report	Print report should now have a line that says how many copies are "on hold" has

Title Report	Adding number of reservations pending for an item	Running	Manager should click print report while some title is reserved for a customer	Print report should now have a line that states how many reservations are pending for each title
Title Report	Print the list of customer names having a reservation for a title which there are outstanding reservations	Running	Manager should click print report; there should be a title which has outstanding reservations so this can be checked	Print report should have a section where it contains all the customers which have a reservation for the outstanding reservation